About me
After a 35+ year career as a developer and manager specializing in enterprise systems, backend processing, and core business applications, I decided to return to Weber State to further explore web design and development. Building on my WSU Information Technology bachelor's degree, I have now earned a Web Essentials Certificate and am nearing the completion of an AAS in Web and User Experience.
Now, I enjoy taking one class per semester as a retirement hobby, and applying my new web skills to design, develop, and maintain websites for local groups and small businesses. Check out samples of my work by clicking below!
